2. Rationale and SMSC aims

The spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of the child is recognised as being of fundamental importance for the education of all children by Governors, staff and parents of OLA. It is taught through all subjects of the curriculum and in particular RE and PSHEE. It supports all areas of learning and can contribute to the student's motivation to learn. It is recognised that such development will be most successful when the values and attitudes promoted by the staff provide a model of behaviour for the students. In later years it can enrich the individual's appreciation of life's experiences and their relationships with others.

We actively promote SMSC at OLA. SMSC permeates all subjects and activities and is evidenced through the schemes of work and programmes of study along with activities which extend beyond the classroom, including those of a residential nature. At OLA, we plan and provide effectively in order to develop pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural awareness. Pupils of all faiths and belief systems are encouraged to strive for academic excellence and a spirit of open and shared enquiry, whilst developing their individual potential and qualities of character so they can make a positive contribution to the world. Whilst SMSC is integral to all aspects of our curriculum, Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education (PSHEE) makes a strong contribution. Pupils are led towards distinguishing right from wrong, to respect the law and towards acting consistently with their beliefs and with a view to the consequences of their own and others' actions. OLA builds resilience to radicalisation of its students by promoting fundamental British values. Any discriminatory or extremist opinions or behaviours are challenged as a matter of routine. For more details on how our school prevents extremism, please see our 'Preventing Extremism and Radicalisation' Policy.

OLA is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

SMSC Policy: Reviewed September 2021

As part of our Positive Behaviour Policy, OLA believes that all students and staff have the right to study in a supportive, caring environment in which they feel safe and free from bullying and harassment that may include cyber-bullying and prejudice-based bullying related to a learning difference, sexual orientation, sex, race, religion and belief, gender reassignment or disability (as defined in the Equality Act 2010), and the use of discriminatory language. Bullying can occur through several types of anti-social behaviour.

For pupils to benefit fully from their time at OLA, we must ensure that they have the best teaching and pastoral care and they must ensure that they try to meet the expectations placed for them in work, conduct and attitude. This can best be achieved where the aims of the SMSC policy link and strengthen other policies so that the ideals of the school's ethos and mission statement become a reality for pupils.

OLA supports pupils' SMSC development and suitably prepares pupils for life. The whole-school community works towards building a positive climate and ethos of the school and enables pupils to grow and flourish, become confident individuals, and appreciate their own worth and that of others. The definitions and practices that follow are intended to clarify the ways that OLA factors Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Development into everyday school life. OLA is a catholic school, but one in which pupils of all faiths and belief systems are encouraged to strive for academic excellence with an open mind.

There is recognition of a broad set of common values and purposes which underpin the school curriculum and the work of the school. These include valuing ourselves, our families and other relationships, the wider groups to which we belong, the diversity in our society and the environment in which we live. There is also a commitment to the virtues of respect for oneself and others, truth, justice and honesty. The curriculum promotes and sustains a thirst for knowledge and understanding and instils a love of learning. It covers a wide range of subjects and provides opportunities for academic, artistic and sporting excellence.

We plan our PSHEE education and citizenship through tutorials and assemblies to help our pupils acquire values and skills to enable them to develop independence and choose their path in life. It is incumbent on us to focus our policy upon the values and principles which we inculcate in our children and young people through the application of our ethos and education throughout the school.

SMSC Aims

Our aims prevent the political indoctrination of pupils through the curriculum. Our aim is not to prevent pupils from being exposed to political views or from discussing political issues in school. Pupils at OLA should not, however, be actively encouraged to support particular political viewpoints. Should a member of staff be concerned that an extremist viewpoint is being expressed, regardless of the involvement of that member of staff in the discussion, then it should be reported to the school's Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL).

The aims of our SMSC Policy are to:

- enable students to develop their self-knowledge, self-esteem and self-confidence
- enable students to understand what is right and wrong in their school life and life outside school
- encourage students to accept responsibility for their behaviour, show initiative and contribute to the school, local and wider communities
- take part in a range of activities requiring social skills, develop leadership skills, take on and discharge efficiently roles and responsibilities, offer help and learn to be reliable
- acquire knowledge and are able to reflect on beliefs, values and more profound aspects of human experience, use their imagination and creativity, and develop curiosity in their learning
- assist students to acquire an appreciation of and respect for their own and other cultures in a way that promotes tolerance and harmony between different cultural traditions;
- encourage students to respect the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs;
- develop respect towards diversity in relation to, for example, gender, race, religion and belief, culture, sexual orientation, and disability
- provide students with a broad general knowledge of public institutions and services in England
- precludes the promotion of partisan political views in the teaching of any subject in the school;
- respond positively to a range of artistic, sporting and other cultural opportunities, provided by the school, including, for example an appreciation of theatre, music and literature
- overcome barriers to their learning.

OLA is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

3. Attitude to risks

We ensure that students are able to understand and respond to risk, for example risks associated with extremism, new technology, substance misuse, knives and gangs, personal relationships and personal safety. We provide positive experiences through planned and coherent opportunities in the curriculum, co-curricular activities and through interactions with teachers and other adults for our students. Our range of artistic, sporting and other cultural opportunities are available to students through the curricular and co-curricular programme, and their participation in these opportunities. We plan our, personal, social, health education and citizenship through, tutorials and assemblies to help our pupils acquire values and skills to enable them to develop independence and choose their path in life. As a result, we are able promote tolerance and community cohesion by helping young people understand different lifestyles and cultures. Tolerance, respect and harmony between different cultural traditions and non-discrimination against protected characteristics are encouraged and pupils are enabled to acquire an appreciation of and respect for their own and other cultures.

4. Promotion of British values

We actively promote fundamental British values by virtue of our approach. Evidence of this commitment to promoting British values can be seen across the school including in our School Prospectus and at our website (<https://www.olab.org.uk/>). We pay particular regard to the protected characteristics set out in the Equality Act 2010 (as detailed in the RSE Policy and Community Cohesion Policy). We provide positive experiences through planned and coherent opportunities in the curriculum (such as learning how democracy and the law works in Britain), through co-curricular activities (often run directly by pupils). For example, our participation in the Model United Nations Program (MUN) provides pupils with the opportunity to learn how to argue and defend points of view and engage in the democratic process. Our School Council ensures that all pupils within the school have a voice that is listened to and demonstrates how democracy works.

Preparation for Life in British Society

At OLA, we develop all our students to ensure they have the values, skills and behaviours they need to get on in life. All children receive a rich provision of classroom and co-curricular activities that develop a range of character attributes, such as resilience, which underpin success in education and future employment.

Building Children's Resilience to Racialisation through the Promotion of British Values

OLA builds resilience to radicalisation of its students by promoting fundamental western civilisation values including those embedded in the British way of life. We provide a safe space in which our students can discuss and understand the risks associated with terrorism and develop the knowledge and skills to be able to challenge extremist arguments or views. Any discriminatory or extremist opinions or behaviours are challenged as a matter of routine.

5. Diversity

We aim for our pupils to understand and appreciate the range of different cultures and faiths in modern Britain and to respect the civil and criminal law of England. Pupils are also encouraged to understand and have respect for the value of democracy and support for participation and decision making in the democratic processes, including respect for the basis on which the law is made and applied in England. OLA encourages an understanding of the separation of power between the executive and the judiciary, and that while some public bodies such as the police can be held to account through Parliament, others such as the courts maintain independence. Pupils understand that the freedom to hold other faiths and beliefs is protected in law and appreciate that living under the rule of the law protects individual citizens and is essential for their wellbeing and safety. We do not 'promote' teachings, beliefs or opinions that conflict with our own, nor do we promote discrimination against people or groups on the basis of their belief, opinion or background.

We use our schemes of work and other plans which enable students to develop an understanding of public services and institutions and to take their place in modern democratic British society. We provide a range of quality opportunities for students to take on responsibility in school and make a positive contribution to the school, local and wider communities. We also take such steps as are reasonably practicable to ensure that political issues are brought to attention of pupils-

- while they attend OLA
- while taking part in co-curricular activities which are provided or organized by or on behalf of OLA
- through the distribution of promotional material
- they are offered a balanced presentation of opposing views.

6. SMSC awareness

At OLA, we plan and provide effectively in order to develop students' spiritual, moral, social and cultural awareness. Pupils of all faiths and belief systems are encouraged to strive for academic excellence and a spirit of open and shared enquiry, whilst developing their individual potential and qualities of character so they can make a positive contribution to the world. Whilst SMSC is integral to all aspects of our curriculum, PSHEE and religious education make a strong contribution. Pupils are led towards distinguishing right from wrong and towards acting consistently with their beliefs and with a view to the consequences of their own and others' actions. In addition, OLA:

- Leads students towards becoming confident and positive contributors to their community and effective users of its services and facilities according to their maturity;
- Enables students to gain insights into the origins and practices of their own cultures and into those of the wider community;
- Takes steps to ensure that the students appreciate racial and cultural diversity and avoid and resist racism

The values and attitudes promoted by the staff influence the behaviour and attitudes within OLA. The quality of relationships and the atmosphere within the school reflect an appreciation of their shared values.

7. Definitions

Spiritual Development

Spiritual development is associated with the search for meaning and purpose in life. It relates to a dimension of life which is not necessarily experienced through the physical senses, but has much to do with feelings and emotions and attitudes and beliefs. The term 'spiritual' need not be synonymous with 'religious'. All areas of the curriculum should contribute to the spiritual development of pupils. Students' spiritual development involves the growth of their sense of self, their unique potential, their understanding of their strengths and weaknesses, and their will to achieve. As their curiosity about themselves and their place in the world increases, they try to answer for themselves some of life's fundamental questions. They develop the knowledge, skills, understanding, qualities and attitudes the need to foster their own inner lives and non-material well-being

Moral Development

Moral development is concerned with students' ability to make judgements about how they should behave and act, and the reasons for such behaviour. It refers to their knowledge, understanding, values and attitudes in relation to what is right or wrong. Pupils' moral development involves pupils acquiring an understanding of the difference between right and wrong and of moral conflict, a concern for others and the will to do what is right. They are able and willing to reflect on the consequences of their actions and learn how to forgive themselves and others. They develop the knowledge, skills, understanding, qualities and attitudes they need in order to make responsible moral decisions and to act on them.

Social Development

Social development refers to the development of abilities and qualities that pupils need to acquire if they are to play a full and active part in society. It also relates to the growth of knowledge and understanding of society in all its aspects. Pupils' social development involves pupils acquiring an understanding of the responsibilities and rights of being members of families and communities (local, national and global), and an ability to relate to others and to work with others for the common good. They display a sense of belonging and an increasing willingness to participate. They develop the knowledge, skills, understanding, qualities and attitudes they need to make an active contribution to the democratic process in each of their communities.

Cultural Development

Cultural development refers to the development of knowledge and understanding and the appreciation of differing cultural beliefs, customs and traditions. They acquire a respect for their own culture and that of others, an interest in others' way of doing things and curiosity about differences. A central theme concerns the development of a sense of personal identity whilst, at the same time, acquiring awareness, understanding and tolerance regarding the cultural traditions of others.

8. What is Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Development?

- a sense of empathy with others, concern and compassion
- a sense of purpose and respect for themselves and others
- an increasing ability to reflect and learn from this reflection
- a sense of awe, wonder and mystery
- insights into a personal existence which are of enduring worth
- valuing a non-material dimension to life
- an ability to show courage and persistence in defence of their aims, values, principles and beliefs
- a readiness to challenge all that would constrain the human spirit e.g. indifference, force, fanaticism, aggression, greed, injustice, narrowness of vision, self-interest, sexism, racism and other form of discrimination

9. Opportunities to deliver social, moral, spiritual and cultural activities

We believe in engendering in young people a love of lifelong learning. OLA ensures that the curriculum gives all pupils experience in linguistic, mathematical, scientific, technological, human and social, physical, aesthetic and creative education. To ensure successful delivery of SMSC at OLA, the following aspects need to be considered:

- The ethos of OLA, which creates the climate within which Social, Moral, Spiritual and Cultural development can flourish.
- The pastoral support for students which should reflect these aims, and creates a deliberate structure through which the care and concern for pupils can be given
- The curriculum, which sets out to ensure that there is planning to introduce and explore the elements of SMSC.
- Teachers must:
 - be aware of these SMSC responsibilities
 - know how respective curriculum areas might be used to deliver SMSC and plan accordingly
 - be alert to the many every day, unplanned and incidental opportunities for SMSC

Delivery of SMSC through specific curriculum areas

Assemblies

- Appreciating and valuing other faiths and beliefs of both groups and individuals
- learning about being a member of a pluralist society and respecting and tolerating others and their belief and needs
- knowing about and celebrating the historical, social and religious aspects and holidays of our own culture and that of others
- celebrating each other's achievements and interests; and learning about presenting in front of a group of peers.

Linguistics

This area is concerned with developing student's communication skills and increasing their command of language through listening, speaking, reading and writing.

- The studying of different texts – classical, contemporary, serious, funny can provide challenging starting points and give an appreciation of the beauty of great language and literature
- drama and stories which create opportunities for moral judgements
- shared activities – shared reading, group drama, corporate writing that lead to an understanding of an appreciation of the importance of the group and other people's point of view
- knowledge of our language and its influence on our culture and the importance and value of other languages and cultures; and awareness of traditional tales and their cultural background.

Art

- Studying great works of art can give insight into other cultures and provide a strong link with the past.
- Art can provide a valuable tool to study the past and make social or moral comment on it (for example, what do the people in works by Lowry tell us about the social conditions of the time?)
- Multicultural art, the art of different religions, the art of ancient societies all reinforce the value of societies other than our own and help us to appreciate their value and the value of our own.
- The appreciation of great works of art and the appreciation of our own attempts helps to build up an awareness of aesthetics and gives an uplifting experience.

Design Technology

- The aesthetic aspect of design is important, as is the question 'How will this affect the environment?'
- Appreciating design in nature.
- The study of technologies from different cultures – historical and geographical – and how these have evolved provides important lessons in cultural awareness.
- Group working – sharing of equipment and designing together.
- Promoting equality of opportunity and providing an awareness of areas that have gender issues e.g. activities that are historically female such as textile studies, encouraging girls to use equipment that has been traditionally male dominated.

English

OLA is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

- The studying of different texts – classical, contemporary, serious, funny can provide challenging starting points and give an appreciation of the beauty of great language and literature.
- Exposure to great literature and poetry and its place within a culture – appreciating moral or social aspects (e.g. Dickens social commentary or learning about other cultures from its writing)
- Drama and stories which create opportunities for moral judgements.
- Shared activities – shared reading, group drama, writing that lead to an appreciation of the importance of the group and other people's point of view.
- Knowledge of our language and its influence on our culture and the importance and value of other languages and cultures.

Food Technology

- Giving pupils the opportunity to examine cultural differences in food and diet.
- Reflecting on the social issues around food such as price and income.
- Acknowledging government guidelines for health and dietary requirements.
- Reflecting on the moral issues concerning food production in third world countries.

Geography

- The study of different localities helps children to understand the background, way of life and values of different people and cultures (For example the Inuit's (Eskimo) and their way of life and values are to a large degree the result of habitat – as is our own)
- Tolerance of other people's differences, overcoming stereotyping, racism and prejudice can all be highlighted through the study of different peoples and their way of life.
- Local studies will encourage an awareness of the child's place, family, home, dependency upon other individuals, people and cultures and needs in the great scheme of things.
- Environmental issues and concerns can be discussed – what are the effects and the issues involved in urbanising an area.

History

- The study of artefacts, buildings, churches etc. gives children a sense of their place in the historical scheme of things. It also helps to develop an awareness of beauty and aesthetics.
- Moral issues can be considered. For example, was it right that war was fought or that children were forced to work in factories and mines in Victorian Britain, or that Anne Frank was forced into hiding?
- Studying the cultures of other times – Egyptians, Romans etc. builds an awareness of the value and importance of other societies and cultures and the relative value and importance of our own. It also stresses the interdependence of cultures

Computer Science

Technological skills can include the use of information and communication technology, developing, planning and communicating ideas, working with tools, equipment, materials and components to produce good quality products and evaluating processes and products.

- Working together to create a graphic design or study.
- Researching religious artefacts on the website.
- Setting up e-mail with another school from a different country.
- Following the Internet Access Policy.

Mathematics

This area helps pupils to make calculations, to understand and appreciate relationships and patterns in number and space and to develop their capacity to think logically and express themselves clearly. Their knowledge and understanding of mathematics is developed in a variety of ways, including:

- Group work on a shared topic, promoting an appreciation of the input of all members of the group.
- An appreciation of the inherent pattern and beauty of mathematics.
- The promotion of positive attitudes towards mathematics through appropriate groupings.

Visitors are welcomed into OLA. OLA will support the work of a variety of charities through our Mission Efforts. The development of strong home-school communication routes is regarded as very important, enabling parents and teachers to work in an effective partnership to support the students. Children will be taught to appreciate and take responsibility for their local environment. Visits to places of worship, cultural venues such as theatres, cinemas and libraries are actively encouraged. Visiting groups such as theatre or musical events are planned throughout the year. Children are taught to appreciate and take responsibility for the environment. We liaise with local community and support groups.

11. Differentiation:

The above is differentiated according to the needs of each individual learner. All Members of OLA should be aware of the importance of SMSC development and the enhancement it brings to the life of the school. They should feel free to voice related concerns and interests within the normal pattern of meetings. The following guidance takes account of information provided by Ofsted and DfE in relation to the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 but highlights principles that are equally applicable to other issues.

Whilst we recognise there is no curriculum requirement to teach about marriage, if we do, we will ensure that our curriculum will accord with the Independent School Standards. OLA believes that a balanced curriculum is one that, amongst other things, reflects the nature of the world we live in. If marriage were to be discussed in lessons, our teachers will reflect the fact that marriage for same sex couples is part of the law of this country, but that they are not required to endorse it. There is nothing in the Equal Marriage Act that inhibits the rights of teachers or schools to express religious or philosophical views about marriage in lessons. Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights guarantees freedom of thought, conscience and religion, and religion or belief is a protected characteristic under the Equality Act 2010. However, teachers and schools must ensure their conduct recognises their responsibilities under those duties to others. Our teachers are expected to respect the rights of others and to respect those with different beliefs; expressing a view in an unprofessional way that involved singling out pupils on grounds of sexuality, or presenting extreme views without balance on a topic such as marriage for same sex couples, would be considered inappropriate.
